

A Culture of Champions

Teacher-Leaders

Live to Love, Love to Give

Upperclassmen transfer culture to underclassmen. Veterans transition the culture to newer (advisors, agents, players, coaches, employees). Accountability to the culture and standards is respected as a love language.

Servant Leadership

Unity
Self

US

In order to lead, YOU must serve first.
Humility first, honors second.

Standards of Behavior

Language / Extraordinary Ethos

The tongue reflects the heart. YOU will have standards, not rules. YOUR standards will be uncommon. YOUR standards will separate you from the common.

Vision

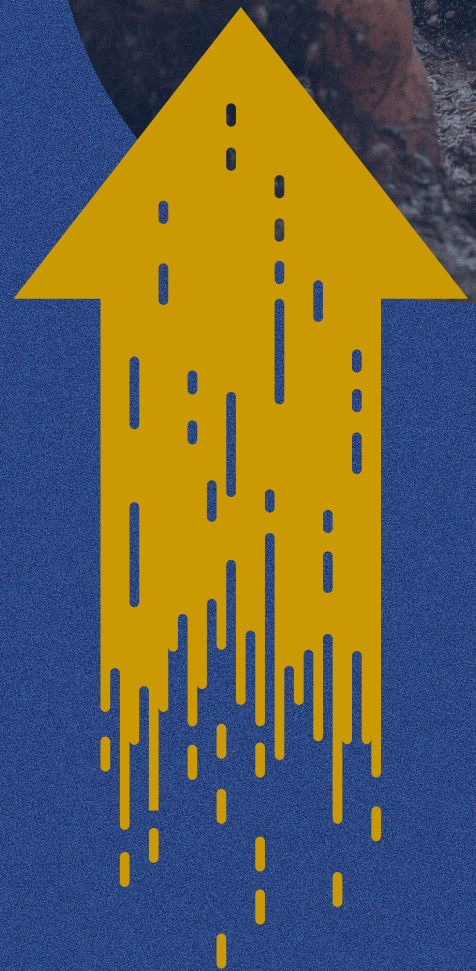

Personal Development & Championship Experiences

YOU will develop first as people, second as (athletes / advisors / agents / coaches). YOU will invest in the process of progress rather than the raw result.

Mission

Confidence, Composure, Class

YOU will have the CONFIDENCE to obtain what YOU set out for in life; YOU will have the COMPOSURE to realize that adversity isn't an obstacle to success, but rather intensifies YOUR desire to succeed; and YOU will have the CLASS to realize that no one remembers the situation, but they will always remember how YOU reacted to the situation.
